THE SPIRIT OF '76

We welcome conservative members of the Provisional Government to the side of stalwart politics, the only kind of politics that will win in a revolutionary era.
When the life of a nation is at stake, temporizing is little less than a crime against the public welfare and civil service reform is a farce and a delusion. The STAR has always and ever recognized the fact that for such a situation as this in Hawaii the Cromwellian and Bis-marckian methods were those of safety and success. It wanted the ex-Queen bundled out of the country. Is there a man in the Government or its councils who does not agree with us now that such would have been a wise move when it was proposed? Is there a patriotic Hawa-ian who does not wish that the plan had been carried out and the object and nucleus of the Monarch-ist conspiracy reduced from a dangerous fact to a harmless reminiscence?

The issue of Royalist removals was broached by this journal and for a long time opposed in the Councils of the Government. It is resisted no longer by the majority. Wundenberg has been suspended, Stiles is out, and there are a score of others whose official heads will soon tumble. At yesterday's meeting of the Government there was small question raised against the wisdom, the policy or the urgency of supplanting the enemies of the party in power with its friends. On the contrary the removal program was heartily supported by all but one of those who have been influential against it in the past. It is now bound to be carried out in all departments of the Government—and 'if the flint oppose it the flint must split or crumble.'

This, however, is not all. In its new-born zeal for stalwart politics, and in response to the almost-united voice of its supporters, the Government has determined not to yield to coercion or attack. It will fortify the ex-palace and hold it with over 1500 armed men and a large battery of rapid-fire guns. When the infamy of Gresham was first revealed there were those who doubted the wisdom of making more than a theoretical defense of the Government against the Cleveland marines.
As the days went by the situation changed. The soldiers declined to surrender without a trial of strength; the Citizens' Guard announced, through its commanders, that it proposed to measure prowess with any hostile comer; and the American League sent a deputation to the Government to pledge full ranks behind the earthworks. As a result, we had yesterday the announcement by the Attorney General that the Government was determined to resist any attacks, from whatever source, and we have today a proper state of military preparation. If an attack comes the Americans and descendants of Americans in Hawaii will render a good account of themselves, secure in the faith that they can hold their ground until Congress shall get a chance to curb the despotic autocrat who has made a Czar's throne of the chair of Jefferson.

"No surrender" from now on is the slogan of the Annexation party—no surrender to Cleveland, whose demand for it is illegal and unconstitutional, and will be void when the American people shall make their fiat known.

God helps those who help themselves! Three cheers and a tiger for the Provisional Government and for the armed men who are backing it with invincible resolve!

THE Government has every reason to believe that Minister Willis will make no new move in Hawaiian affairs until after the arrival of the Alameda. By that time Congress will have taken a hand in the imbroglio.

A SURPRISING STATE OF THINGS

The ex-Queen's personal organ, the Holomua, prints the following item about the Collector-General of Customs.

FROM HAWAII CASTLE, He is not "nose" after all. He undertook to "fire" one of the Customs House clerks without consulting his "superior." He was ready plaint to understand "this posture." He wanted to argue the point, he was immediately "SHUT UP."

The facts of the case are these:
The Collector-General of Customs, who is a loyal man, gave notice to Palmer Woods, who has been under political suspicion, that his services as a Customs House clerk would no longer be required.
Hearing of this Theo. H. Davies, a friend of Mr. Woods, intervened for him with Mr. Damon, and the latter, in the hearing of Carl Wide-mann, directed the Collector-General to withdraw the order of discharge and let Mr. Woods stay in office. It is presumed that Wide-mann carried the story to the Holomua, thus adding insult to the injury done the Collector-General by the amazing policy of the Finance office.

One lesson to be drawn from this occurrence is that when a Royalist in the Customs House wants to keep his place in spite of the adverse wishes of his chief, all he has to do is to enlist a pronounced foe of the Government and of annexation on his side and the latter will enlist Mr. Damon.

Ever since it became known that Mr. Damon would not only keep Royalists like Widemann in his own office, but would oppose Mon-archist removals in other departments of the public service, the STAR has been urged to take grounds against him. Invariably it has declined. It declines still to do more than to call attention to facts which are doing very much to impair Mr.
Damon's popularity as a leader of the Annexation party and which will bring serious dissensions into our ranks unless something shall be done to correct them. Valuable as Mr. Damon is to the Hawaiian Government, and potent as he is in the realm of finance, we fear, if he keeps in his present course, that the effect will be seen in an indignation meeting, at which his policy will be handled without gloves.
That has been already proposed as a vent to public discomfiture.

Come into line, Mr. Minister; come into line, your colleagues and your party are there, and there to stay.

NO BRITISH INFLUENCE.

There is a great deal said about the prospects of British influence here, which does not accord with the probable facts.

It is a free boast of the Royalists that, if the ex-Queen is restored and the American troops leave her to take care of herself, the British tars will land and protect her from domestic revolt.

This means, if it means anything, that President Cleveland is willing to abandon the Monroe doctrine and kill his party and himself; or that the British Government has made up its mind to defy that doctrine and with it the power of the great republic.

Either proposition is absurd, the first because President Cleveland has repeatedly shown, and is now showing in respect of Brazil, that the Monroe doctrine has his full confidence; second, because Great Britain has no stake in the Pacific big enough to tempt her to risk a struggle with America at a time when Russia and France would be likely to take the chance to settle their vital differences with her and her European allies.

Should the red-coats come ashore at any time of trouble it would simply be to protect British property and British subjects. They would not interfere with the objects of a revolution that might be in progress any more than the American marines who landed during the fight at Alexandria to defend the United States' consulate interfered with the designs of Arabi Pasha upon British jurisdiction in Egypt.
Let the spectre in a scarlet coat vanish.

THE Holomua's talk of the Philadelphia shelling the defenses at the ex-palace is childish. Too much foreign property lies exposed in Honolulu to permit anything of the kind. The Holomua is in the Frankenstein business to the extent of its feeble ability.

LIGHT FROM THE WEST.

The Policy of the Government as it Appears to a Group of Papers.

The announcement of the Cleveland policy respecting Hawaii has come. It is not the American policy. It is not the policy of the United States Government, or of the people of this republic. It is not yet, thank God, the policy of the Democratic party. It is neither more nor less than the personal determination of an executive officer, charged with temporary power, to use that power to enforce a personal conclusion, regardless of consequences in infancy or blood.

Stripped of every special plea and specious pretext surrounding the essential fact, what is the purpose which Mr. Cleveland now declares, through the so-called report of his too subservient Secretary of State? To crush the life out of a young republic, already recognized by us as an independent and responsible Government; to employ the armed power as well as the moral influence of the United States to thrust back upon a civilized people, American (in their instincts and habits and aspirations, a barbarous monarchy in the person of a vile and ridiculous person whom they have driven from the throne; to undo the work of a revolution which made Hawaii a republic, by means of a counter-revolution by competent planned in the White House at Washington and secretly but deliberately ordered by a President of the United States.

That is the Cleveland policy. The American policy was settled long ago.
It has never varied. It was never better defined than by James Buchanan, a Democratic Secretary of State, when he spoke to the new-born republic of 1848 in France. This assurance of America's sympathy for every people struggling out of the forms and traditions of monarchy: "It was with one universal burst of enthusiasm that the American people hailed the late glorious revolution in
